

JENKINS'S LIBERTY WON BY ATTORNEY

U. S. Agent Released by Brigands After Lawyer Had Paid Ransom Money

VICTIM IS STILL HELPLESS

By the Associated Press
Mexico, City, Oct. 28.—The release of William O. Jenkins, United States consular agent at Puebla, who was held captive by Mexican bandits in the mountains south of that city, and who returned to Puebla Sunday, was effected by one lone man, Senior Mestre, the personal attorney of Mr. Jenkins, according to advices received here.

At the beginning of the negotiations for the ransom of Jenkins, Frederick Cordova, the leader of the bandits, stipulated that any effort on the part of the consular agent's friends to appear in force at the bandit rendezvous would result in the death of Mr. Jenkins.

Bandits Guarded Jenkins
Senior Mestre, therefore, met Cordova at Hacienda Chacarra, which is situated about two hours' run by automobile south of Puebla. He was then conducted to a room where he found Jenkins lying on a bed. After a short talk, the ransom money, $200,000, Mexican, was counted out and a receipt was signed by Cordova.

Jenkins was then released and on the arm of Mestre, left the house, accompanied for some distance by Cordova's men who acted as a guard. The two men finally reached another hacienda and were conveyed to Puebla by automobile.

Few details of incidents which occurred during Jenkins's week of captivity have been learned, as he is not physically able to tell much of his experiences in the mountains except that his abductors were on the move continually to guard against attacks. They treated their prisoner with every consideration possible, however, it is said.

Jenkins Helpless in Hospital

Forced to sleep on the wet ground during a week of daily rains, Jenkins suffered a recurrence of rheumatic attacks, which rendered him almost helpless. He is now in the American Hospital at Puebla, only a few investigating officials being admitted to his room.

Secretary Elting Hanna, of the American embassy here, who directed negotiations for the release of Mr. Jenkins, on the part of the United States, will not return from Puebla until Wednesday. Upon his arrival it is expected an official report will be made.

DRUG CLERKS TO STRIKE

New York Union Demands Eight-Hour Day and Closed Shop
New York, Oct. 28.—(By A. P.)—A strike that will vitally affect New York's millions was voted early today by representatives of 4500 drug clerks. After an all-night meeting the men voted 1430 to 76 to walk out during the week. Union officials said that the men involved comprised 90 per cent of all the drug clerks in the city.

The clerks demand an eight-hour day, a closed shop and an average increase in wages of 35 per cent. Soda clerks, cashiers and other employees in drug stores are included. Officials of the union declared that every effort was made to adjust their grievances, but they were given no encouragement.

ALIENS MUST GO FIRST

U. S. Citizens Will Be Preferred in Navy Yard Jobs, Orders Daniels
Boston, Oct. 28.—(By A. P.)—No citizens of the United States are to be removed from their jobs at navy yards because of lack of work or lack of funds for naval construction until all aliens have been discharged. This is the substance of an order by Secretary Daniels received at the first naval district headquarters here today.

BUGBEE REPLIES TO RIVAL'S QUERY

Too Late to Bring Up Dry Law Enforcement, He Tells Edwards

DEMOCRATS SETTLED IT

Trenton, Oct. 28.—Replying to the comment of Senator Edward L. Edwards, Democratic candidate for governor, in response to his pertinent questions as to what Senator Edwards would do to redeem his pledge to nullify the constitution of the United States in the event of his being elected governor of New Jersey, State Comptroller Newton A. K. Bugbee, the Republican candidate for governor, issued the following statement this morning:

"My personal views on the eighteenth constitutional amendment are, like yours, entirely irrelevant and futile in the situation. Whether I, personally, think the police power should be a matter of state, rather than national control under our constitution, is no longer a question for debate. Such a question is 100 per cent camouflage. That matter has been settled. It was settled by a Democratic Congress and administration and through votes from the Democratic states of the South.

"Your party said that prohibition should be a part of the national constitution and you waited until after you had accomplished it and until you wanted the votes of the 'wet' before you raised your voice against it.

"In January next, the eighteenth amendment to the constitution will be part of the supreme law of the land, just as much a part of that law as the income tax amendment to the constitution which you and I may not like, but which we are compelled to obey and under which we pay our income tax.

"Had you asked that question of your party before it passed the national prohibition amendment, it might have had some effect. To ask it of me, now, after your party has put it into effect, is like locking the barn door after your party had purloined the horse."

U. S. FARMERS CONVENE

Will Probably Act on Labor Situation at Hagerstown Meeting

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 28.—(By A. P.)—Nearly every state in the union is represented at the gathering of associated farmers' organizations comprising the Farmers' National Congress, the Farm Women's National Congress, Maryland Agricultural Society and smaller societies which opened their annual sessions here today. Governor Emerson C. Harrington welcomed the visitors and J. H. Kimble, president of the national farmers congress, addressed his annual address.

Probably action will be taken Thursday in regard to the labor situation, which is the most serious now confronting the farmers, and the government's attitude toward wheat.

NOTED VIOLINIST DEAD

Clarence DeVaux Royer, of Lancaster, Pa., Had High Reputation

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 28.—Professor Clarence DeVaux Royer, internationally known violinist, died this morning in St. Joseph's Hospital after a long illness. He was a native of this city and made his first public appearance as a child in St. Mary's Church. In later years he studied with Ysaye in Brussels, Halle in Berlin and Mar-sick in Paris, returning to this country to thrill thousands.

For the last nine years Mr. Royer was head of the violin department of the New York School of Music and Art, and was formerly associated with the Ithaca Conservatory. He was also an orchestra director and a lecturer of note.

We ask the business men of Philadelphia to join us

WE are convinced that The Philadelphia Orchestra is entitled to the support of the business men of Philadelphia as the leading symphony orchestra in the United States, and as a distinct civic asset to Philadelphia.

The impression made by the Orchestra in the largest cities in America which it visits and where it plays before 100,000 persons during each season has been proven to be of the most pronounced advertising value to our city.

To place this Orchestra on a permanent financial basis such as the Endowment Fund of One Million Dollars now asked will accomplish, is an investment for the business interests of the city. To compel so valuable an asset to be discontinued for lack of this fund cannot be considered.

We ask, therefore, that the business men of Philadelphia will join us in the support of the Orchestra in this campaign.
